Consider It Done

Leasing and maintenance of Refrigerator Units, Deep Freezers, Aircons, Chillers, Mortuary equipment, temperature sensors, cold-room equipment

Whether you own a small fast food café or run a thriving uptown restaurant, a funeral home, a food & beverage processing plant; it's important that you have the supplies and equipment you need to be successful. While equipment is essential, the capital to purchase that equipment is not always available when the equipment is needed.

This is where we come in with a lease option.

3 KEY BENEFITS OF LEASING EQUIPMENT

While buying used equipment is always an option, leasing new equipment allows you to enjoy several benefits; listed are the 3 key benefits in our opinion;

-  Regularly updated equipment – We repair and regularly service the equipment, ensuring it is constantly in an optimal working condition.
Depending on your business type, equipment leasing can help you stay on top of the latest advances in equipment and technology.
-  Leasing does not tie up your funds - your available finances and credit line remain open for use on other core functions, emergencies and more directly profitable investments.
-  Tax savings – With leasing, the tax burden shifts to the supplier. Leased Equipment is deducted as an Operating Expense. In a lease, the entire amount of the monthly payment is deducted as an operating expense, while in a purchase, the equipment must be depreciated. This improves the outlook of your balance sheet.
